This will prove an "off year" for bosses, rings, and the Democracy.

It has been very dry in Ohio for several weeks, but in the Democratic campaign there is abundance of whisky.

Mr. Ludlow, the prohibition candidate for Governor of Ohio, talks temperance, and at the same time keeps on selling his wine presses. The prohibitionists of Ohio are bound to keep consistency out of their canvass.

There are many ups and downs in the President's condition and in regard to his recovery there is hope mingled with fear. The favorable symptoms of one day are blasted by a relapse the next, and thus it goes from week to week. Since he was removed to Long Branch, he has not gained much—probably not any—and his physicians are becoming baffled at his condition. There are so many complications in his case that what the end will be none hardly dare predict.

A young man of sixteen summers was arrested one day this week in Yorkville, New York, for stealing a considerable sum of money from his employers. His employers, however, refused to appear against him in the police court on the ground that his parents wanted to place him in the navy! The people of the East must have a queer notion of the qualifications necessary for admission to the United States navy, when a criminal must be saved from punishment that he may be able to enter that branch of the service.

The Gazette has already mentioned the fact that Mrs. Cooper, a number of Dr. Hemphill's church in San Francisco—Presbyterian—was charged with heresy and was brought up for trial. Mrs. Cooper is an indefatigable worker in the church, and organized a bible class numbering three hundred members. She is a relation of Colonel Ingersoll, and though not following the Colonel in his extreme views in regard to religion, has been teaching doctrines which her church considered unsound. Mr. Roberts, superintendent of the Sunday school of that church, complained of the teachings of Mrs. Cooper, but the minister, Dr. Hemphill, took her part. Very recently, Mr. Roberts upbraided Mrs. Cooper for teaching what he called unsound doctrines, and when the lady told him in plain English that she would rather live in hell with Robert Ingersoll than in heaven with Roberts, he got mad and preferred charges against her. She was tried and found guilty of heresy and ordered suspended from the church. It caused the liveliest sensation San Francisco has had since the shooting of De Young by young Killoch.

Dr. Thomas may be a good man, but he is not a good Methodist. His doctrines don't tally with those of his church, and it was a mistake to bring to the church white lowering its standards. Dr. Thomas may be right and the standards wrong. That was not the issue in the recent trial. Was he orthodox or unorthodox? Methodist doctrine? And the response of the jury is that he was not. Therefore his suspension from the functions of a Methodist minister. The result could not have been unexpected.—Cincinnati Commercial.

The Commercial is mistaken in regard to Dr. Thomas' position. He claims that his doctrines do "tally" with those of the church. If he did not think he was inside of a fair construction of the articles of religion of the Methodist Episcopal church, he would not contend for a place in the church. He asserts that he is teaching and preaching true Methodistism, and by the law of the church justly construed, they can not turn him out. Those who imagine Dr. Thomas is attempting to lower the standard of church doctrine and at the same time is fighting for a place in the church, are very much deceived. The trouble in regard to Dr. Thomas has been brought about by those who are jealous of him, who are beneath him in ability, and very much below him in kindness of spirit and in Christian charity.

THE "BOSS" GIRL.
There was only a moderate degree of interest on the fair ground on Friday afternoon in regard to the premium which Mr. George W. Peck offered to the "boss" girl. There was not a full attendance of the committee, only three being present and three voting by proxy, and a majority of these voted for Miss Maggie Luman, of the town of Bradford. She is not a girl of the period, so to speak, but a good housekeeper, industrious, not particularly handsome, but energetic, and in very many ways accomplished. Several years ago she gained quite a reputation for capturing a den of wolves, and securing their scalps, and last summer she went to Dakota and secured a quarter section of land. When the vote of the committee was announced, the sewing machine was placed on a dry goods box in front of one of the buildings, and then there was a tremendous rush for the spot to see the "boss girl." Mr. Fethers made a very neat little speech in presenting the sewing machine to the lucky young lady who stood in the crowd in front of the speaker. When her name became known, and the presentation was complete, Miss Luman mounted the box with as much confidence as an old stage at public speaking and did herself much credit in thanking the committee for the honor they conferred upon her, and remarked in closing that if the committee learned in after years that the gift had not been worthily bestowed, it was not the first time man was deceived by woman.

NO BOSSES NEED APPLY.
Some of the wards in Milwaukee held Republican caucuses on Thursday evening and the result showed that the Milwaukee post-office ring cannot control the politics of that city. Something "dropped" on Thursday evening and it dropped heavily, and the men who are trying to force a certain candidate on the people, regardless of public sentiment, began to see that this will be an off year for bosses and bossism. In the Second, Fourth, and Seventh Assembly districts, all anti-Rusk delegates were elected to the State convention. There was a good deal of opposition to General Rusk—not against the man personally—but against the means by which he is being brought out. It was a chilling rebuke to certain men in Milwaukee who are trying to force him upon the people, when the people want to be left free to designate their own candidate. The postoffice crowd in Milwaukee, aided by Senator Sawyer, are taking a peculiar interest in General Rusk at this time. He is a first rate man in very many respects. He would undoubtedly make a good Governor, and is worthy of the confidence of the people, but he made a mistake in placing himself in the hands of a few ambitious politicians in Milwaukee who care no more for the people than they do for a last year's almanac, and who are working for self and nothing more.

The Evening Wisconsin in commenting upon the caucuses in Milwaukee says: "The aim in selection seemed to be less that Warner, or Bowman, or Bingham men, or men of bias toward any particular gubernatorial candidate should be chosen, than that Rusk men should be defeated. In the Fourth District (Fourth Ward) the antagonism against General Rusk's candidacy was marked; and a resolution was presented and adopted by almost a unanimous vote deprecating ring methods and ring dictation, and especially condemning as opposed to Republican principles the manner in which General Rusk's candidacy is being forced upon the people."

The Gazette was in hopes at the outset of the canvass that there would be no such a movement as that to force any ring man upon the State convention. Such a movement would be fatal to the party and an insult to the intelligence of the Republicans of Wisconsin. One way to make the party strong, to secure for it the confidence and respect of the people, and to make a victory sure, is to smash all rings and postoffice cliques that attempt to thwart the will of the people and force a ring candidate on the State convention. It is unfortunate for General Rusk that he has fallen in bad company. He is a staunch Republican and an honest man, but to lend himself to any set of ambitious politicians who will corrupt any party, should warrant his defeat.

There are indications that Milwaukee will go almost unanimously against the bossism in that city. The Republicans there—by that we mean the masses—do not want any wire-pulling or the success of any scheme which will further the ambition of men who are seeking personal aggrandizement. They want the Republican State convention to be composed of good Republicans, untrammeled and unpledged, and who can not be hired to vote for a man for Governor whom the people do not want.

THE PRESIDENT.
Special to the Gazette.
UNOFFICIAL BULLETIN.
ELBERON, Sept. 17.—8:30 a. m.—The morning report will, no doubt, be favorable. Colonel Rockwell, the President's cousin, watched with him the greater part of the night. He says the President slept well the most of the night, and his temperature and pulse are lower than last evening. Weather clear.

OFFICIAL BULLETIN.
ELBERON, 9 a. m.—At the morning examination and dressing of the President temperature, 99.8; pulse, 106, and respiration, 21. Fluctuation of pulse during the night varied from 116 to 130; temperature during the time not deviating much from normal. He slept quite well, taking nourishment at proper intervals. His cough was not troublesome and expectoration moderate. Discharge from the wound more healthy, and color granulation slightly improved.

LONG BRANCH, Sept. 17.—Rockwell said this morning if the President is going to die that it would take a good deal yet to kill him. Dr. Agnew refused to express an opinion. The chances are better this morning than yesterday, but can not tell how long it will last. Dr. Bliss would not venture to predict twenty-four hours ahead. At 1:30 p. m. the President had a rigor lasting half an hour. Pulse 130 at 3 p. m., and no recurrence of chill. Agnew says it began at 11:15, lasting thirty minutes, pulse going up to 137, temperature 101, respiration 21. Brandy and water were rejected by the stomach. He is now sleeping quietly.

COLLISION.
Special to the Gazette.
ELMIRA, Sept. 17.—Six persons were killed this morning by a collision of the freight trains on the Erie road.

A BAD DAY.
The President Worse—The Disease Getting the Upper Hand of the Surgeons.

LONG BRANCH, Sept. 16.—This has been one of the President's very bad days. His condition this forenoon was such as to create considerable alarm, and a flood of private telegrams poured in upon the physicians and friends of the family requesting the latest news of the President's condition. When the intense gravity of the case for the past two weeks is fully comprehended, perhaps there was no reason for the panicky feeling which reared to beset every one this morning. The President has his good days, and his bad days, and to-day has been one of the worst. He has not gained anything since his arrival here. At times he has seemed to improve, and again he has lost, and twenty-four hours of the description of those just passed more than counterbalance the gain made in double that time at any period since he left Washington.

Yesterday the physicians thought they were getting control of the abscess on the lungs. To-day the abscess apparently has the upper hand, and, added to this complication, the wound is looking worse than it ever has before.

The enormous odds against which the physicians are contending in fighting pyemia can hardly be estimated. Medicines are of no avail, surgical skill is comparatively valueless. It rests with the patient himself, aided by pure sea air, tempting food, and careful nourishment. To throw off the poison of the blood would be a mighty task for a strong man. How much greater is for one enfeebled by long disease, emaciated by the gaping wound constantly drawing upon his vital forces, can be imagined. In reality, it is now a question of human endurance. Can he who has already borne so much, endured so nobly, fought so persistently, continue the battle five weeks longer, the time fixed by Dr. Hamilton as required to overcome the blood-poisoning, and in the end triumph over death? The physicians are no longer trying to bolster up the hopes of the public. The official bulletins tell the whole story of each day's progression or retrogression, as the case may be, and all that remains to do is to wait.

BURNSIDE'S FUNERAL.
PROVIDENCE, R. I., Sept. 16.—The funeral of General Burnside was very impressive. The body has lain in state, in the rotunda since noon Thursday, and was visited by thousands. The State militia, veteran organizations, and members of the State government, and a large cortege of citizens, accompanied the hearse through the streets. Buildings were draped, bells tolled, and a number of guns were fired. The procession formed on leaving the church, by United States senate, representatives, and government officials, Brown university, representatives of the board of trade, historical society, local legion and many local associations. The remains were conveyed to the cemetery and deposited in the family plot, with a military salute. Slices and places of business were closed during the day, and the schools for half a day. The great concourse were from all parts of the State and surrounding country. Immense and deep feeling was manifested.

NOT GUILTY.
The Acquittal of Cochran for the Murder of Judge Hayden—An Interesting Scene in Court.

NEILSVILLE, Wis., Sept. 16.—The Hayden murder trial had a dramatic ending at 10 o'clock, to-day, by the acquittal of the defendant, Mr. Cochran. The jury had been out twenty-four hours, and it was generally believed that they would report a disagreement, but notwithstanding the house was well filled. As the jury filed in there was a buzz indicative of the deepest interest which was followed by a solemn and most impressive silence when the foreman announced a reply to the usual interrogation that the jury had agreed. There the prisoner sat, unmoved so far as any appearance of nervousness was concerned, but his whole being impressed with awful import. At the next moment all eyes turned towards him, all hearts ached for him as he listened for the words upon which the future of his life hung. Soon it fell upon his anxious ears, "not guilty," ears filled with joy and relief, for he was circled in the strong arms of men who wept like children, and such a shout as went up never was heard, and probably never will be again, in that court room. The jury and officers did their duty, but it was impossible to suppress the enthusiasm that remained on the countenances of all and especially those of the ladies, nor did the enthusiasm abate with the adjournment of the court, or immediately after, but seemed to increase until it ended in an impromptu dinner and reception to Mr. Cochran, which is now going on at 3 p. m., at Freeman's hall, and is one of the most elegant of the kind ever seen here.

TEMPORARILY SUSPENDED.
The Prosecution of the Star Route Thieves Suspended.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—The star route prosecution has been temporarily suspended. The grand jury has gone on a vacation. Colonel Cook, Colonel Gibson, and the other colonels and detectives who have made Room 59 famous are all out of town or are exceedingly quiet. In fact, there is a suspicious current about town that something connected with the celebrated cases, which were to end so gloriously for the new regime, has collapsed. What is the trouble, if any, is not known, but it is in the air. Colonel Corkhill has caused an explanation of the vacation of the grand jury to be printed, but it is not accepted generally without a grain of salt. "It is thought to be a rather singular proceeding to make an agreement beforehand with the members of the grand jury that they should go for two weeks after hearing one trivial matter, when there are eleven cases of homicide, to say nothing of those of national importance, waiting. The publication is more significant from the fact that persons who are alleged to be interested in star contracts under Brady are reported to be extremely defiant in their bearing, and declare more vehemently than ever that the government can find nothing against them except extravagance of management, perhaps, which is a matter of opinion and not a crime. Just what is being done, if anything, is a mystery."

MICHIGAN SUFFERERS.
ADRIAN, Sept. 16.—The work of relieving the Michigan fire sufferers is still being vigorously pushed in to this city. A large consignment of goods, including several plows, was sent to Detroit over the Wabash this morning. In addition to large contributions of supplies, $2,200 have been paid in, and of this $1,500 have been expended in buying implements, seed, harness, etc. A committee of ladies is to-day engaged in making fifty "comforters," which will be completed and forwarded immediately. Clinton, this county, has subscribed nearly $2,000, and Tecumseh and Palmyra have done well, but other portions of the county have not come to the front as they should.

THE PASSENGER WAR.
CHICAGO, Sept. 16.—Nothing has yet been done by the Vanderbilt roads to get even with the Grand Trunk for cutting the rates to Buffalo and selling round-trip tickets to that point, good for thirty days. The officers of the Lake Shore and Michigan Central railroads expected instructions from Vanderbilt yesterday regarding this matter, but up to last evening none came, and, consequently, the situation in the passenger war continues the same as the day before. It is evident that Vanderbilt is considering measures with General Manager Newell, of the Lake Shore, who is now in New York, that will stop the advance of his enemies on his lines. No new steps will probably be taken before next Monday, but by that time it is quite certain the war will become fiercer than ever, and the most sanguine encounters in the annals of American railroading may be looked for.

In Good Spirits.
T. Walker, Cleveland, O., writes: "For the last twelve months I have suffered with lumbago and general debility. I commenced taking BURROCK'S BLOOD BITTERS about six weeks ago, and now have great pleasure in stating that I have recovered my appetite, my complexion has grown ruddy, and feel better altogether." Price $1.00, trial size 10 cents. For sale by A. J. Roberts and Sherer & Co.

WISCONSIN POLITICS.
MADISON, Sept. 16.—The Republicans of the Twenty-sixth senatorial district held a convention here to-day and elected George B. Burrows and O. L. Lund delegates to the State convention. Both favor Warner for Governor.

The Republican convention of the second Assembly district of Dane county was held here this afternoon. E. W. Keyes and Finis Baldwin were elected delegates to the State convention, and will support Warner for Governor.

The third assembly district convention was held at Sun Prairie, and C. E. Warner and John E. Johnson were elected. They are also for Warner for governor.

Several leading Germans are interesting themselves in the movement to unite the German Republicans of the State, in opposition to the efforts of the prohibitionists to secure the adoption of a prohibitory liquor amendment to the constitution. Letters were sent to each of the 1,350 postoffices in the State, and from the returns in, it is computed that there are 40,000 German Republicans in the State, or about 35 per cent of the total vote of the party. The German leaders will use these figures to justify their demands for the offices, and to show the danger of the party of ensnaring temperance legislation.

DELAWARE, Sept. 16.—The Second district Republican convention held in Dares yesterday, nominated John Brown, of Sharon, for the Legislature, and sent C. C. Blanchard and W. R. Taylor as delegates to the State convention.

The Eighth senatorial district convention met in Elkhorn, and, after a spirited contest between the Weeks and Littlejohn factions, the convention voted by a vote of 20 to 5 in favor of the Weeks delegation. J. V. Quarles and T. D. Weeks were made delegates to Madison.

SHORTLETS.

—Turn out to the caucuses this evening.

—Rev. J. W. Sanderson, is expected to preach at Broadhead to-morrow.

—Mrs. Schwartz's condition is reported as a little more favorable to-day.

—Mr. Harrison, of the Third ward, offers his residence for sale. See notice given elsewhere.

—Will Richardson, arrived home from Omaha, this morning, after an absence of about five months.

—A mare and colt were stolen one night this week from the farm of Barney Radican, near Clinton.

—Mr. Peter Myers expects to leave the first of the week to purchase the necessary apparatus for heating his Opera house by steam.

—The news reaches here that an old resident of this place, Horace B. Wade has died at Viroqua, Vernon county, Wis., aged 75 years and over.

—The Beloit Free Press says—"Our boys are well pleased with the manner in which they were entertained by the Janesville firemen."

—The wind made lively work with the big tent on the Fair grounds last night, necessitating a speedy removal of Mr. Buchholz's carriages.

—The colt on which E. F. Welch, of Bradford, took first premium at the fair, was between four and five months old, and weighed 650 pounds.

—Excursion tickets to the State Fair at Fond du Lac, will be sold by the C. & N. W. R. Co., Sept. 26th to Sept. 30th, good until Oct. 3d, for $1.10 for the round trip.

—The strong wind last night fanned the members of the late fire near the depot into a blaze, and the firemen were kept on watch, fearing that it might go further and do worse, but it didn't.

—It seems that it was not Morgan Akin who was injured yesterday but a man in his employ, named Frank Maxson. A runaway was the cause, and the injury consists of a fractured ankle.

—Mrs. Catharine Moriarity, an old lady aged 87 years died at William Canary's home in this city yesterday morning. The funeral services are to be held from St. Patrick's church to-morrow at 1 o'clock p. m.

—The gallery at the Opera house was never so crowded at any show as last night. It is claimed that the gallery seats 200, but last night there were 825 tickets sold for the gallery, to say nothing of deadheads.

—Rev. Dr. Thomas, of Chicago, who is to lecture at the Opera house here one week from Monday night has changed his subject, and decided to lecture on "Social Forces," which is said to be the best of his lectures.

—Andrew Lowry, whose team won for him a $10 cash premium, generously donates the amount back to the society, saying the honor is enough for him. If there were some more of these generous souls the society would feel better about the rainy days.

—Charles H. Stoller, of Emerald Grove, complains that some of the property he was using on the Fair grounds, has disappeared. He is charitable enough to think it has been taken by mistake. If so a speedy return of the same will prove his theory to be correct.

—James Shearer, who has just returned from New Mexico, hands us a late number of the Bernalillo News. Part of it is in English and part in Spanish. The town must be hungry for both intellectual and physical food, as the only wants advertised are for two printers and a cook.

—Several pistol shots were heard on the streets last night, causing the officers to run hither and thither. In every case it proved to be young men who fired just "for fun." The officers are justly indignant, and now have determined that hereafter it will be "awful funny" to those who try it. Rich or poor, high or low, these Fourth of July fellows are to be taken to jail.

—The dance given by the Bower City Rifles last evening was quite largely attended and proved to be a highly enjoyable affair. The exhibition drill given by the company was an interesting feature of the occasion, and was very creditable to those who took part. The army proves to be a very convenient and commodious place for social gatherings, and all present last evening express themselves highly gratified at all the arrangements.

—Miss Hattie A. Barnhart, of Milton, who is only fifteen years old, sent some excellent bread to the Fair, which was literally of her own make. She helped her father bind and stack the wheat, helped wait on the threshers, helped fan up the wheat, caught the horse in the lot, harnessed it, took the wheat to the mill, dug the potatoes, made her own yeast, milked the cow for the milk with which to sponge the bread, and made the bread "all herself." It is evident that there is more than one "boss girl" in Rock county.

—"Lindsey's Blood Searcher"—the great medicine for fever and ague, malaria, and all blood poison. Don't fail to use it.

GENTLY DOES IT.

Engine Cross, Swan Street, Buffalo, writes: "I have used Stryke Blossom for dyspepsia and indigestion, and have found it to act admirably as a gentle aperient and blood purifier. I consider it unequalled; 'you are at liberty to use my name as a reference.' Price 50 cents, trial bottles 10 cents. Sold by A. J. Roberts, and Sherer & Co.

A LANDLORD ROBBED.

An Unwelcome Guest Gets Away With Anton Behrend's Pocket Book.

There registered at the Union house yesterday a man giving his name as George Blooms, and residence, Beloit. Last evening he sat playing checkers with a Mr. Dumphy, of Edgerton, until bedtime, and the two were shown to the same room, and were to occupy one bed.

Mr. Dumphy was unsuspecting and slept quietly until about four o'clock this morning when awakening he found that he was alone. He also found that he had been robbed, apparently by the missing stranger. Fortunately Mr. Dumphy had but a little silver change in his pocket so that the loss was not heavy. The only article of clothing missing was his necktie. The thief had left him his railroad ticket to Edgerton, but took a jackknife and other little trinkets of no particular value.

It appears that the thief got bigger plunder elsewhere, for when the landlord, Mr. Anton Behrend, awoke, he found that his vest was missing, and the door of his room stood wide open. On searching further the vest was found in the yard, as was also Mr. Dumphy's missing necktie, but all of Mr. Behrend's valuables were gone. Said valuables consisted of about $80 in gold, and probably $200 or more in bills. Mr. Behrend is unable to say definitely as to the amount, but thinks he must have had fully that much with him. His watch was gone also, and even his jackknife, lead pencil, and what few matches he had in his vest, in fact the pockets had been cleared out of everything.

The man who registered as George Blooms has failed to materialize yet, and hence the officers are after him, believing him to be the one who got away with the landlord's wealth.

GENE WILD.

J. Gilbert, Clarksville, Iowa, writes: "I have disposed of that last lot of Dow's Liver Cure and must have more by quickest route. Send me four dozen at once. The people of this place have gone wild over it, and they really believe it will cure any disease that human flesh is heir to. I surely have worked wonders in this vicinity, and its work is a permanent good."

BUFFALO BILL.

The Opera house was crowded last night to see "Buffalo Bill" and his company in the drama "The Prairie Wolf."

The lower part of the house was crowded and the gallery was jammed, many standing up throughout the entire evening unable to get seats. The play is, as was expected, a highly sensational one, the plot itself being very light, and serving simply to hold together a series of scenes from border life. There are plenty of thrilling situations, hair breadth escapes, shooting, etc., and yet, there is a refreshing relief in the line of comedy which runs through it. "Buffalo Bill" made a remarkably fine exhibition of fancy rifle shooting. The trick donkey Jerry made mofetm, and the Indian dances proved at least a novelty. There was very little really artistic work done, but there was a great variety in the features of the entertainment, and it evidently pleased the crowd greatly, and applause was liberally bestowed.
